ABOUT

Sally Gallot-Reeves is a spiritual gardener planting seeds of love. Her life's work as a writer, nurse, healer, and life path coach is dedicated to promoting the Highest Good for all individuals, animals, and nature kingdoms.

Sally's middle grade fiction series Behind the Open Door, draws from her background in child behavior, psychology, and healthcare to create an exciting, imaginative, mystical world in which children who are feeling misunderstood have a safe place to explore their special abilities. The Book of Light emphasizes the importance of appreciating others' differences, and fostering loving relationships through trust and compassion.

Other published works include The Soul Garden Pathway Discovery Guide, a self-help workbook assisting readers in bridging their physical self with the spiritual and Between Shifts, a collection of vignettes in poetry. She is also the author of the Soul Garden Pathway website where she pens daily blessings and blogs out into the world to offer hope and insight into life's challenges. www.soulgardenpathway.com

Born in New England, she resides in New Hampshire where she continues her literary work and spiritual life creating sanctuary space for all living things.
